Mr. George L. Cox has handed The Ledger Man a copy of The Maysville Republican of September 5th, 1868, printed by the present proprietor of this paper. The entire first page is given up to a speech delivered at Greensburg, $2.50. Ind., by the ate Hon. W. H. Wadsworth of this city, advocating the first election of Genera' rant to the Presidency. Of the local busines men whose advertisements appear in its columns 41 have passed away; and the only advertiser whose name appeared then in The Republican and appears today in THE LEDGER, is Mr. David Hechinger.

Saturday's Langer contained a telegram announcing the death of Mr. James Nicholson at the home of his son in Minneapolis, but gave no particulars. A letter from Mr. Ralph Pollitt in part says: "I just took two papers over to "Nick," his son met me at the door and said the old man was dead. He died last Wednesday a' 10 o'clock. He was going down stairs to fill a lamp, he called his son and told him he had an awful pain in his side, his son told him to go and lie down and he would make a mustard plaster and put it on his de. As soon as possible he of death, and before a doctor arrived, he bad passed away." oc Soap 3c.

Soap frauds are as frequent as sin. Even the generally acepted pure soap is often half tallow-and mean tallow at that. And still pure soap is so cheap adulteration seems incredible. Suppose you skip the risk and buy this,-White Castile Soap-formula 90% pure olive oil, 10% edible tallow-pressed into 4-ounce bars, which dry out some. They weigh about 31/2 oz. when you get them but isn't that a big soap weight for 3c? Until now, always 5c.

10c Cheviot Shirtings 7½c.

Serviceable and satisfactory-proved by the selling of hundreds of yards every year. Heavy quality, dark colors. Made for hard wear and victorious trips to the laundry.

A new name for a different weave of the woolish cottons. A soft fleecy finish on both sides. Especially suitable for bath robes dressing sacks and short petticoats. Only a few patterns left, chiefly grays and tan. No guesswork about the saving either, its real and actual.

This is flannel weather, and good rattling items from the biggest, the best, the lowest priced flannels hereabouts, with prices further reduced, ought to be mighty interesting news for your pocket book. An excellent assortment of all wool plaid and check flannels in dark colors, low priced at 25c, further reduced to 19c yd.

Have you tried the comfort of these frost proof garments? Outing wearers can get rich pickings from the gowns that show a mite of soil from use in decorative display during the holidays. Dainty blues, pinks and creams. If you are not a convert to the comfort of outing night gowns, try them. They give the warmth of an extra blanket, without its weight and cost.

For kimonas, home dresses, shirtwaists and wrappers this fabric offers dainty and practical possibilities. Never prettier colors or neater designs than in this assortment. The American manufacturer is constantly becoming more expert in color printing and these pretty cashmeres are good examples of art applied to low priced goodslower priced than usual now-almost two yards for the price of one!

A big return for a $5 investment. Good quality taffata silk in black and the new changeable shades, made with deep ruffle set in the skirt which assures greater fullness, more rustle and longer wear.

83c Percale 5c Yard.

We sell it with full knowledge and assurance of its excellence, while those who have bought it this season—and they are legion will return for more if they need percale today. In blues and cardinals only.

During the past weeks of stormy weather provident wome have been wearing Black Sateen Petticats because they have dura bility, comfort, economy and sightline's to recommend them. A the $1.25 and $1.39 Sateen skirts are yow $1. Six different, pretty styles from which to choose. All the 1 skirts are now 75c but it's hardly safe to advertise them, -Christmas selling so decimated their ranks.

If you want to fully realize the money you can save in this sale just try to match these comforts for $1-you'll not come within 50c of it, for at the original price of $1% they were surprising qualities. Filled with hand picked cotten, covered with fast color print figured on one side, plain on the other.

Prices range from 50c to $61/2 and every umbrella is an excellent value for its price, but to three lines we want to call particular attention.

50c UMBRELLAS. A special lot that will give really reliable service. They have good steel frames, excellent cotton serge coverings with selvedge edge, and natural wood handles in many designs. Nothing better for children's school umbrellas. Sizes for men and women also. 75c UMBRELLAS.

Paragon frames, steel fer les, coverings of fast black French gingham or mercerized cotton, traight and crook handles of light or dark wood. Until you see t lese, you will not believe how much umbrella goodness can be bouldt for 75c.

$1 UIBRELLAS. Artistic handles add much to an umbrella's beauty, but it must have other merits too. You will find the handle beauty of these umbrellas fully equaled by the worthiness of their covers and frames. We have never been able to present such values for one
